DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

- 1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:
  - (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.
- 2. Claims 17-21 and 25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Akram et al. [U.S. Pat. 5,866,953] previously applied, in view of Papathomas [U.S. 2002/0105093] previously applied.

With respect to claim 18, Akram et al. (fig. 6, cols. 4-6) discloses a semiconductor device comprising:

- a semiconductor die (602) having a bottom surface (604);
- a chip carrier (608);
- a die attach material (not numbered); and the semiconductor die (602) attached to the chip carrier (608) with the die attach material, wherein the die attach material covers the entire bottom surface of the semiconductor die.

Akram et al. do not disclose the die attach material including a component of a tungstate material. However, Papathomas (col. 7, pp [0043]) discloses that tungstate material is well known material in the art for using as the die attach material (14). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having skill in the art at the time the invention was made to select tungstate material as known material, as taught by Papathomas, into the device of Akram et al. in order to improve the thermal heat transfer from the chip to the surroundings. Moreover, selection of a known material based on its suitability for its intended use supported a prima facie obviousness determination in Sinclair & Carroll Co., Inc. v. Interchemical Corp., 325 U.S. 327, 65 USPQ 297 (1945).

With respect to claim 17, Akram et al. (fig. 6 and col. 5, lines 35-36) discloses that the chip carrier (608) is selected from a group consisting of a substrate and a leadframe.

With respect to claim 19, Akram et al. (fig. 6; col. 4, lines 1-6 and col. 5, lines 44-47) discloses that an encapsulant (626, 630) encapsulates the semiconductor die, the encapsulant (424, 428) including a component of negative CTE.

With respect to claim 20, as reason given above, Papathomas (fig. 1 and col. 7, pp [0043]) discloses that the encapsulant (14) includes a tungstate material.

With respect to claim 21, Akram et al. (fig. 6; col. 4, lines 1-6 and col. 5, lines 44-47) discloses that the encapsulant (626, 630) is selected from a group consisting of a mold compound and a glob-top material.

With respect to claim 25, as reason given above, Papathomas (fig. 1 and col. 7, pp [0043]) discloses that the die attach material (14) and the encapsulant (14) include zirconium tungstate.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 17-21 and 25 have been considered but are most in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
